Preschool!

We are accepting applications for all levels and have space available right away in our preschool program.

Laurel Campbell displays her favorite mode of transportation.

The little ones with all their joy and love of life have a future shaped by every passing moment. Their tomorrow begins today.

We believe you can never start educating a child too soon; starting at age 2 years 9 months, our preschool includes reading readiness and hands on math projects. You will see their communication level enhanced by way of basic handwriting and simple language skills. Their wondrous imaginations and playful attitudes are enriched with daily art and physical education – not to mention exciting and adventurous field trips.

Our faculty provides a nurturing, caring and friendly environment allowing your child to grow and expand at their own rate. They are safe to be themselves while they learn living skills from using the playground to zipping their own coat and keeping their body clean.

Anthony Wang and Lucas Baez work diligently on their handwriting.

The emphasis on social skills including manners, sharing and group activities will shine through in your child's beautiful smile as they interact with their new best friends.

Our preschool runs from 8:30am-5:00pm Monday through Friday with a nap period after lunch.

Brian Li learns to decode using his phonics workbook.

“Look at what we saw, the places we went and the things we learned !”

After 5 weeks of some major fun, our campers got to travel the ocean blue and go on an adventurous safari right from school! The excitement continued when they visited the Easton Children’s Museum and Fuller Craft Museum.

Katerina Karakatsanis, Kyra Lewis and Caleb Marquez touch creatures of the deep! The New England Aquarium came to town and campers learned about the different habitats for many sea animals. It was a hands-on visit as everyone got to touch crabs, mussels, sea stars, snails and other fun, prickly crustaceans!

Angie Dunbar and Tylah Lake put on their makeup at the face painting station of Easton Children’s Museum. Our lower school students drove tractors and trailers, explored the enchanted forest and much more at the museum’s many imaginative exhibits.

Chloe Nichols practices her teeth brushing skills at the Children’s Museum.

Nathan Bedingfield holds a tropical parrot! Animal Adventures came right to our door and boy was it adventurous! Snakes, alligators, parrots, monkeys - you name it, we saw it and *touch*ed it!

Malik Ulysse, Myles Parker and Jadyne Baptista touch a baby alligator.
